1 Choking on our own rules has allowed Trump to illegitimately remain in the WH for 2.5 years. He should have been ejected the day he had Russians in the Oval Office. Unfortunately the constitution wasn't set up for this. Justice is colliding w/ politics, obstruction & propaganda

2 What's not choking & is steadily accelerating, is Trump's cratering health. Wearing a suit & holding a title doesn't slow or mask the decay of his dementia ravaged brain. We are in new territory now. The loss of control in this video will get more severe

Dementia Alert. Note how Trump loses body control as he slurs- Left shoulder involuntarily dips, the hands splay, the torso jerks back & his head sharply tilts to his right to compensate/regain setting. He needs an immediate neurological exam. It's not normal, he's deteriorating

Trump has some trouble with the word "trailblazers"

3 Trump looks wrecked bc it reflects what's happening inside him. He once was fastidious a/b his look & clothing down to the tic tacs & combing his eyebrows upward. Now his appearance is increasingly disheveled. Poorly tailored suits or an overcoat cover a loss of body control

4 The toxic exterior appearance will worsen bc he's at the point where grooming & hygiene problems occur. We will hear stories. This week alone we've seen his skin color go from an orange to pinkish hue & a section of his hair fly out like a hair extension

1 THREAD- Donald Trump's Frontotemporal Dementia. Trump has a physical on 2/8. In a panicked move, he named Dr Ronny Jackson as his Medical Advisor 6 days beforehand. Ronny gave him the fantasy physical last yr & is under investigation. This feels very much like Trump is cornered

5 Trump is right on schedule for his dementia driven nosedive. He's now having trouble covering his involuntary movements w/ a turn or motion to make it appear more natural. He's less aware of the involuntary movements his body is doing, and can't compensate, even if he was aware

6 Trump's won't be the GOP 2020 candidate. His balance is worsening. Zig Zags on the Paris red carpet. Slipping on stage in FL. Rocking while answering Iran questions. It will get much worse. I've said b4, if Mueller doesn't take Trump down, dementia will

There is no Trump in 2020. Dementia will take him down if Mueller doesn't
